The description of the objectives, methodology, content, and target audience of this training course can be found on the ATTF website:

Digitalisation in Banking – Driving the Digital Transformation of your Bank

Experts &
Partner Institutions

The programme features highly qualified and internationally recognised experts from leading institutions at the forefront of digitalisation in Luxembourg. These include the Luxembourg House of Financial Technology \(LHoFT\), the National Commission for data protection \(CNPD\), Luxembourg for Finance, LuxHub \(Innovative Fintech solutions in Open Banking\), Luxembourg House of Cybersecurity \(LHC\), the Luxembourg Bank and Bankers Association \(ABBL\).

In addition to institutional expertise, the programme also benefits from the insights of renowned professionals such as:

- Sylvain Momin, a specialist in guiding organisations through complex digital transformations, particularly in regulated sectors like banking;
- Johann Blais, co-founder of Advanzia Bank;
- Rémy Ozcan, president of the French Federation of Blockchain and co-founder of Crypto4All.

These and many other distinguished experts and practitioners contribute to a rich, practice-oriented learning experience.

A distinctive feature of this programme is the presence of a dedicated coordinator and moderator, ensuring a cohesive and comprehensive understanding of all topics covered. This role also facilitates seamless integration across the various components of the programme.

Sabrina Lemaire serves as the programme coordinator. As a distinguished Chief Digital Officer in the banking sector, she is widely recognised for her strategic expertise in merging traditional banking practices with cutting-edge digital technologies. With over two decades of experience in marketing, communication, business development, and digital strategy within the banking and telecom industries, she brings a wealth of knowledge and insight.

Sabrina has successfully led numerous digital transformation initiatives, significantly enhancing operational efficiency and customer engagement through innovative solutions. Beyond her technical acumen, she is also an ICF Master Certified Coach (MCC) and an experienced trainer. Her work focuses on leadership development, change management, and empowering professionals to fully leverage digital innovation.

Her combined expertise in coaching and leadership underscores her commitment to cultivating talent and fostering leadership in the digital era.
